Environmental Promotional Activity on Human Elephant Conflict at
Nameri National Park on 15th of March, 2022

Conflicts of the human and elephant is one of the burning topics in the country, especially in Assam. Rangapara College is situated in such an area where the maximum cases of man-elephant conflict were recorded. Therefore, to aware the local people, an environmental promotional activity was organized by the members of the green club of Rangapara College "Xeuji" in the Nameri National Park on 15th of March, 2022. The student team was led by Dr. Gitartha Kaushik, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Zoology, Rangapara College. In the campaign, the members visited the nearby villages and talk to the local people about the human-elephant conflicts. They also talked to the officials of the Nameri National Park on how to minimize this conflict. During the visit, it was found that one of the main income sources for the local villagers is to sell their garden products like Banana, and various vegetables including the elephant apples which are the primary food for the elephants. The team therefore suggested the local people to plant vegetables like Lemon and Orange instead of Banana and Elephant apple saplings to get rid of the attack of elephants in those areas.
